SEYMOUR, INDIANA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 1, 1916

PRICE TWO CENTS

BOARD ABOLISHES VOLUNTEER SQUAD

Believes Members of Organized Fire Department Can Cope With Average Blaze.

GARBAGE CONTRACT EXPIRES

City Clerk Instructed to Advertise for Bids for Removal of Ashes and Garbage in 1916.

By the action of the board of public works in regular session Tuesday night the volunteer firemen's system was abolished. After the organization of the present department six men were retained on the volunteer force and were expected to answer alarms as soon as they were sounded. They were paid for the calls they answered. Recently the fourth member of the organized squad was employed and the board of works believes that the force is now sufficient to cope with an ordinary fire.

It was stated that in case of a conflagration assistant firemen could be selected to help the organized department and that the service would not be hampered by the disbanding of the volunteer force. The action of the board will save the city a substantial sum each year for the firemen are allowed $1.50 for each call they answer and frequently they respond to false alarms or report at small fires when their services are not needed.

The city will be without a garbage collector for two weeks. The contract expired Tuesday and the board authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids for the coming year. The ash removal contract expired at the same time and bids will also be received for this work by the council on March 16. The bids on both contracts must be filed with the city clerk before 7:30 o'clock p. m. on that date. The street department was recently given control of the work of removing the ashes as the debris had been allowed to collect in the alleys for several weeks. The ash contract which has just expired has been unsatisfactory and the council intends to require a bond from the party who secures the new contract. Until the new garbage contract is entered into none of the garbage will be removed. The present contractor refused to continue the work at the same compensation but intends to file a bid for the new contract.

The board authorized the mayor and clerk to enter into an agreement with the Seymour Mutual Telephone Company to sound the fire alarm bell in the fire station. The company agrees to install a special telephone from the exchange to the department for use only in giving the location of fires. The new phone in the station will have a loud gong connected with it and whenever it rings it will be a signal that a fire has been reported to the exchange operators. It is believed that the special phone will eliminate the trouble that has been experienced in the past. Heretofore the telephone has been used for all purposes. The company agrees to maintain the special phone system and to sound the alarm for $6.50 per month.

Upon the order of the council given at the last regular meeting City Clerk Burkart read a report concerning the cost of operating the street flusher, sweeping the improved streets and removing the ashes and garbage. Gilbert Chasteen offered to do this work for $13 a day, the city to furnish the gasoline for the flusher and keep the machine in repair. The city clerk went over the reports of the past year and found that all the work which Chasteen offered to do had cost $4,881. Chasteen's proposition would mean an annual expenditure of $4,056, or a saving of $825 annually. The council took no action on the report and as it ordered the advertisement for bids it is generally understood that no change will be made at this time in the present system.

LADS INTERCEPTED ON JAUNT TO TEXAS

Three Edinburg Youngsters Find "Bumming" Entirely Different from Home Sweet Home.

SPENT PART OF NIGHT IN BARN

Local Police Find Trio in Pennsylvania Station Hovering About the Stove.

"Bumming" is an entirely different thing from the way it is sometimes pictured in the movies. No one knows this better than Elmer Wheeler, fourteen, Haley Meyers, fifteen, and Forest Sanders, fourteen, all of Edinburg, who were intercepted early today by the local police while the lads were on their way to Texas. The parents of the boys did not know they were missing from home until they received a long distance telephone from the local officers inquiring if they knew the boys were here. The father of one of the lads expressed surprise that his son was not in Edinburg, and asked the police to hold the trio here until he arrived. He came on an early car and took the boys back home.

The lads said they had spent part of the night in a barn in the north part of the city but that the hay didn't protect them enough from the cold night air and they decided to come further down town in hope of finding some place where they could "thaw out." After walking about the streets a short while they located the Pennsylvania railroad station and finding the men's waiting room open they took advantage of the warm room.

Night Ticket Agent Jesse Himler saw the boys in the room and decided that they ought to be home and notified the police. The night men answered the call and after questioning the youngsters found they lived in Edinburg and had run away from home. They said they were on their way to Texas.

The police decided that the boys should be held until they could communicate with their parents. The boys admitted they lived in Edinburg and after a series of questions were fired at them said they had left home without the knowledge of their parents.

One of the boys said he had taken a small amount of change from a pocket-book at him home and that the sum was sufficient to pay the way of the trio almost to this city. After they left the car they walked to Seymour and "put up" for the night in a barn.

The father of the boy who came after them thanked the police for holding them and for notifying him of their presence here. The lads said they were on their way to Texas and the Southwest.

PETITION OUT FOR MORE STREET WORK

Effort Being Made to Improve Third Street North of the Post-office Site.

WILL EXTEND TO EWING STREET

Petitions for the Improvement of Other Thoroughfares May be Circulated Soon.

Petitions asking the improvement of several streets with brick or concrete are expected to be filed with the city council early this spring so the preliminary action can be taken in ample time to permit the work to be completed during the summer. A petition seeking the improvement of Third street, between Chestnut and Ewing streets, and of Indianapolis avenue, from Second to Third streets, is being circulated among the property owners affected and it is expected that it will be presented to the council at the regular meeting Thursday night. It is stated that the owners of property along the streets specified in the petition are in favor of the proposed improvement.

One reason for improving Third street, it is said, is to extend the paved district to include the block in which the new postoffice building will be located. By improving Third street between Chestnut and Ewing and Indianapolis avenue to Second street the block containing the postoffice site will be entirely surrounded by paved streets. Persons back of the movement say that the business district will be extended to embrace Third street as soon as the new postoffice is completed and ready for occupancy.

It is pointed out by those in favor of the improvement that Third street will be more heavily traveled than ever before after the postoffice is opened on the new site and that under the heavy traffic the gravel street will soon be worn down and that it should be in good condition so it will be in keeping with the other improvements in that section of the city. It is stated that the expense to the city will not be large as there will be but one intersection to pave, at Indianapolis avenue and Third street. Ewing and Chestnut streets are already improved.

It is known that because of the

WILSON HAS DECIDED TO APPOINT JUDGE SHEA

Formal Announcement May Not be Made for Several Weeks, According to Dispatch.

MEMBER OF APPELLATE COURT

By United Press. Indianapolis, March 1.—The president has decided to appoint Judge Joseph H. Shea, of Seymour, Ind., as ambassador to Chili, according to a special dispatch to the Indianapolis News this afternoon.

The dispatch says the appointment may not be made for several weeks. Judge Shea is a member of the Indiana appellate court.

The above advice is said to have been sent by the Indianapolis News bureau in Washington to the News. Judge Shea has been in Washington for several days conferring with Senator Kern and Congressman Dixon concerning the appointment. So far as known only one other applicant is seeking the diplomatic post in Chili which was left vacant when Ambassador Henry P. Fletcher was transferred to the Mexican post. The senate recently confirmed the nomination of Fletcher as ambassador at Mexico City.

STATE POLITICAL CONTESTS ARE HOT

Candidates for Governor and Senator are All Doing Their Best to Win Next Tuesday.

COUNTY CANDIDATES ACTIVE

Campaign for Nominations by Republicans Indicates Their Confidence in November Elections.

Robert G. Tucker, of Indianapolis, political writer for the Cincinnati Enquirer sums up the Indiana situation as follows:

"With the primary barely a week ahead and the anxious seat in Indiana is crowded to the limit and then some.

"The race for Senator has tightened up considerably within the last few days. James T. Watson, of Rushville, who has been regarded as a leading candidate, is not as strong in the betting as he was ten days ago. The friends of Harry S. New have shown a disposition to back him and with few exceptions the Watson money has been grabbed up by them.

"New is not making a whirlwind finish like Watson. He is not of Watson's spectacular type, but he is none the less determined. He says that he is going to win, and that he is very well pleased with the outlook. Edward H. Schmidt, who has charge of the New headquarters, is out with a prediction that New will carry every Congressional district except the Sixth.

"Watson has been claiming eleven of the thirteen districts for the last two weeks, so it is apparent how far apart the rivals are in their estimates.

"New is getting strong support from the Republican editors. In the First District, for illustration, all of the Republican editors except one have come out for New.

"Arthur R. Robinson, the third Senatorial candidate, is an unknown quantity. The vote he will receive enters into the calculations of the friends of New and Watson. There is a possibility of Robinson receiving enough votes to throw the senatorial race into the state convention.

"Apparently there has been little change in the gubernatorial race. James P. Goodrich, of Winchester, will go into the primary a favorite

MEMORANDUM OF GERMANY DOES NOT CHANGE PLEDGE

Views of German Foreign Office Regarding Decree Expressed by Baron Schearzenstein.

ARMED MERCHANTMEN NEW

(By Carl W. Ackerman, United Press Staff Correspondent.) Copyrighted in U. S.

Berlin, March 1. (Via Wireless).—Germany's memorandum that armed merchantmen in the future will be considered as warships does not change the pledge Ambassador Bernstorff gave the American government, because when it was given no such thing as an armed merchant liner was thought of," declared Baron Von Schearzenstein, of the foreign office to the United Press today. "When Germany made those pledges," he continued, "she never dreamed the British government would instruct merchant liners to conduct offensive warfare," the Baron said.

CONGRESS TO TAKE IMMEDIATE ACTION

Warning Resolutions will be Put to Vote "At Once," According to Chairman Stone.

KERN IN THE CONFERENCE

Flood and Stone Also Meet with the President—Executive Session is Now Urged.

By United Press. Washington, March 1.—Congress will act on the President's request concerning warning resolutions "at once," Senator Stone said following a conference with the President today. He added, however, that action will not be possible to-day.

Senator Kern and Chairman Stone and Flood, of the senate and house foreign affairs committees, met the President at 9 o'clock remaining nearly an hour. At this conference an agreement was reached to have the vote taken on one of the various resolutions pending in both branches. Following the conference Chairman Flood said:

"In the light of the events I think there is little question that all members will support the President."

Agitation was earnestly renewed to-day in congress for the president to appear before congress in an executive session and present his view concerning his dealings with the central powers.

Indications were today that there will not be a vote on a resolution such as the President desires before Friday. Neither Stone nor Kern believe, they said, that the senate will be called on to act before Friday. A conclusion practically reached by the President and administration leaders was that a vote on a resolution such as the McLemore resolution warning Americans to stay off armed boats would best serve the purpose. The President would expect the house to vote it down. Similarly he would expect the senate to vote down or table Gore's resolution. A resolution expressing confidence or complete endorsement of his international policies is not desired, the feeling being that it would be difficult to get the votes for that.

Republican leaders told Flood they would not support a resolution merely expressing confidence in the President.

LULL MAY PRESAGE NEW GERMAN DRIVES

Berlin and Paris Agree That Infantry Fighting Around Verdun Slackened Last Night.

FRENCH FRONT BOMBARDED

Minor Air Activities Reported in Which One British and Two French Crafts Were Brought Down.

By United Press. London, March 1.—A lull in the Verdun fighting throughout last night was reported in a wireless dispatch this afternoon. The dispatch gave notice that there is no reason to believe that the German war office intends to abandon the offensive campaign in the Verdun region.

Infantry fighting in the whole region around Verdun came to an almost complete halt last night, official dispatches from both the French and German war offices agreed this afternoon.

At the same time Paris gave warning that the Germans probably are preparing for a new offensive on a gigantic scale. The lull in activities is believed to presage the beginning of new Teutonic drives.

The German war office reported artillery action continuing on the whole front but mentioned no engagements of importance in the Verdun district. Paris report intermittent bombardment of the French front northwest of Verdun but no actions in the Verdun districts.

Minor air activities were reported by both sides. The German war office claimed the destruction of two French and one British aeroplane and the bombardment of an enemy supply train. Paris reported that a German flyer was brought down in an encounter with a French aviator near LaBassee.

REPUBLICAN'S WAR PICTURES AT THE MAJESTIC TOMORROW

Capacity Crowds Expected at All Three Performances of War Films Tomorrow.

At Washington, where the great war film "On the Firing Line with the Germans," was presented last night, standing room was at a premium, so eager were the crowds to get a glimpse of the pictures. This picture, which the Republican brings to the Majestic theater for afternoon and evening performances tomorrow, is without a doubt the most wonderful piece of war photography in the country today. Press and moving picture critics have paid tribute to its value as an exceptional feat in photography under the most hazardous conditions, while the thousands who have seen it have sat spell-bound at its realistic and faithful portrayal of the great battles of which they have been reading in the papers.

From present indications, seats at all three performances here tomorrow will be at a premium. The matinee performance has been moved back until three o'clock, to enable the school students to attend. The schools will be dismissed in time for this performance and hundreds of them are expected to take advantage of this most unusual lesson in present day history. The first evening performance will begin at 6:45, and the second at about 9 o'clock.

If you wish to get a clearer conception of what war really is, if you wish to see the very battles of which you have been reading during the past few months, if you wish to see the German army in all its completeness of detail and in its wonderful organization, if you want to follow Von Hindenberg's now historic drive against Russia and Poland—see the Republican's war pictures tomorrow at the Majestic.

WHY MEN CHEW TOBACCO

It's the Only Way That Real Tobacco
Hunger Can Be Entirely Satisfied

"OLD KENTUCKY" IDEAL CHEW

Since tobacco was first introduced to civilization, nobody has ever discovered so supremely satisfactory a way to get all the flavor and enjoyment out of it as chewing it. And no other form of chew can give you the hearty, wholesome, juicy flavor that you get from a delicious high-grade plug tobacco like Old Kentucky.

The secret of the greatest chewing satisfaction lies in the selection of your chew. Among plug tobaccos the brand that gets the most enthusiastic endorsement is undoubtedly Old Kentucky. The reason for this is not hard to find.

Old Kentucky is made exclusively of ripe Kentucky Burley—the most richly-flavored chewing tobacco that grows. Still more, only the very choicest of all the Burley leaf is used for Old Kentucky.

This choice leaf is selected with the most painstaking care, is stemmed by hand, is thoroughly washed free of all foreign matter and is pressed into plugs so slowly that not a drop of juice or an atom of flavor escapes. Moreover, Old Kentucky is made under the most rigid, cleanly and sanitary conditions.

The result is a sweet, mellow, luscious, satisfying chew that cannot be obtained in any other tobacco than Old Kentucky.

Try a 10c pocket plug to-day.

WHY not give your lad the same training?

"When I was a growing lad, and came upon many words in my reading that I did not understand, my mother, instead of giving me the definition when I applied to her, uniformly sent me to the dictionary to learn it, and in this way I gradually learned many things besides the meaning of the individual word in question—among other things, how to use a dictionary, and the great pleasure and advantage there might be in the use of the dictionary. Afterwards, when I went to the village school, my chief diversion, after lessons were learned and before they were recited, was in turning over the pages of the 'Unabridged' of those days. Now the most modern 'Unabridged'—the NEW INTERNATIONAL—gives me a pleasure of the same sort. So far as my knowledge extends, it is at present the best of the one-volume dictionaries, and quite sufficient for all ordinary uses. Even those who possess the splendid dictionaries in several volumes will yet find it a great convenience to have this, which is so compact, so full, and so trustworthy as to leave, in most cases, little to be desired."—Albert S. Cook, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of the English Language and Literature, Yale Univ. April 28, 1911.

Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful.

Mervin H. Soister, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning the stiffness had almost disappeared, four hours after the second application I was as good as new."

THE FALL OF WARSAW! THE STORMING OF FORT NOVO GEORGIEVSK! GREAT SEVEN DAY BATTLE! BATTLEFIELDS FROM AN AEROPLANE! VON HINDENBERG'S SMASHING DRIVE! THE KAISER AT THE FRONT! MURDEROUS MACHINE GUN FIRE! HAMMERING THE BIG FORTS! ZEPPLIN RAIDS ON WARSAW! RAIN OF RUSSIAN SHELLS! THE FIERCE INFANTRY ASSAULTS! MILES OF BATTLING DEMONS! TERRIFIC TRENCH STRUGGLES! DESPERATE BAYONET CHARGES!

The Republican War pictures have a two-fold educational value—they present a vivid portrayal of actual scenes and give the laymen an understanding of the things our country needs—in order to meet the onslaught of a modern war. Observation and combat aeroplanes, balloons, armored automobiles, collapsible towers and other things in these pictures make one marvel at the completeness of modern fighting machinery, makes us realize how helpless is our own country.

Battling and Battered Europe Before Your Very Eyes—HISTORY IN THE MAKING

In witnessing these pictures you are taken into the field kitchens, and the armored auto trains, which plow through all obstacles. It is a chance to meet the genial kaiser and his imperial family and all the prominent generals; after you see them reflect on what is required of a nation before it can justly say it is ready to meet an armed enemy.

These pictures reveal war as it really is, not only a conflict of thrills and horrors, but a cold, calculating, vastly technical business, a picture you cannot afford to miss seeing.

You'll say it when you try these made-to-measure clothes on before a mirror—when you search for flaws you can't find—when you look for wrinkles that aren't there.

Here's A 'Tip' On Rheumatism Follow It

AN ACCURATE DESCRIPTION
When your arm or your leg feels "all knotted" with rheumatism, when you feel as though your muscles were "tied up with a rope," you are really describing your pains accurately. Rheumatism is a condition of the body when acids and other deposits of impurities are actually "tying up" the strands of muscles in your body, or strangling the nerves and thus producing the awful shooting pains of sciatica, lumbago, etc. Medical authorities agree that these acid deposits are carried and deposited by the blood in the various parts of the body. It stands to reason, therefore, that local applications such as rubbing with so-called remedies can't do any permanent good. At best they can relieve the pain a little and only for a little while. The only way to effect a real cure is to attack the real cause—the blood. It is cleansed from the troublesome deposits by S. S. S., the reliable blood purifier that is now easing the pains and healing the ills of the third generation. S. S. S. "goes after" the impurities in the blood as relentlessly, as eagerly and as thoroughly as a ferret goes after rats; pursuing the poison into every vein and artery, into every nook and corner of the body, and chasing the troublesome substances out of the system. The blood thus cleansed, carries off the acid and other injurious deposits and "filters" them out of the body through the kidneys. S. S. S. is not a drug. It is a purely vegetable blood purifier. You can get S. S. S. at every drug store. But if in addition you should like to have the advice of the doctors in charge of our laboratory, do not hesitate to write us. You will receive free, conscientious and confidential advice. This is in line with our policy to make every effort to insure the best results from S. S. S. to every sufferer. Get a bottle at your druggist's today. If you wish special advice, write to Medical Department, Room 45, Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

over Warren T. McCray, of Kentland, and Quincy A. Myers, of Logansport. On paper he looks like a winner in the primary, yet the McCray men are confident, and there are reports here and there of considerable activity on the part of the Myers men.

"John W. McCardle, who has charge of the Goodrich headquarters, says that Goodrich will be nominated at the primary by a margin that will be surprising. He has gone over the situation in every county carefully and has made figures on them. He maintains that in his calculations he has been conservative, giving both Myers and McCray the advantage wherever he felt doubtful.

"McCardle and other Goodrich men count on Goodrich's advocacy of reforms in the taxation laws that will lower and equalize taxation to help him among the farmers and among all classes of property owners. Hundreds of letters have been received at the Goodrich headquarters from farmers who say they are for Goodrich because of his stand on taxation matters.

"Goodrich is the strongest candidate among the railroad employees. Myers also has a very decided following among the railroad men, who are boosting him in every railroad center."

The congressional race in this district on the Democratic side is without contest, Lincoln Dixon being assured of a renomination. There are four or five candidates for the Republican nomination, John H. Kammann, of this city, being among those who have lead in the race on the Republican side.

For the county offices there are three contesting in the race for sheriff, Harvey L. McCord, of Seymour, James W. Cunningham, of Brownstown, and F. E. Cosby, of Clearspring, who are actively seeking the nomination. They are canvassing the voters of the county and each is anxious to win the opportunity of being elected Republican sheriff at the November election.

There are two candidates for auditor, Isaac Smith, of Freetown, and O. O. Shortridge, of Medora. Mr. Smith is one of the old time wheel horses of the Republican party and has a very large following. Mr. Shortridge is a young man full of energy and stands very high in his community. He is making an active canvass to cover the county as completely as possible before the primary election day and is meeting a great deal of encouragement.

The other nominations on the Republican ticket are without contest. The Democrats, however, have a number of lively contests. The race for sheriff having the largest number of candidates and the other offices all having men who are actively seeking the nomination.

Coach Hendershot, of the high school basket ball team, this morning received word from the Brownstown high school that their team would be here Friday night to play the locals. There had been some doubt as to whether the game would be played, as the contracts sent Brownstown some time ago had been held until today. This will be the last regular game on the local's schedule before the sectional tournament, which will take place Friday and Saturday of next week.

ASSESSORS ARMED WITH NECESSARY DOCUMENTS

Meet at Office of James Branaman For Final Instructions Regarding Their Work.

LAW GIVES SEVENTY-FIVE DAY

County assessors and their deputies met at the office of County Assessor James Branaman at the court house today and received final instructions for the annual appraisal of personal property for purposes of taxation. The blanks and other supplies were distributed to the assessors. The work under the state law begins today and seventy-five days are allowed to complete it. The assessors will begin appraising property Thursday.

The county assessor told the township assessors and their deputies that the state board of tax commissioners has established a rule whereby all personal property is to be listed at its full value and then one-fourth deducted for equalization purposes. In case the assessor does not believe the property is given in at its full value one-fourth is not to be deducted.

The township assessors are: Driftwood, C. Everitt Hobbs; Grassy Fork, Henry Steinkamp; Brownstown, John Haman; Washington, William F. Bretthauer; Jackson, Louis Downing; Salt Creek, Earl Lutes; Redding, Sherman Davis; Owen, James Martin; Hamilton, Henry Schmitker; Vernon, Clyde Cravens; Carr, Henry Walters.

The deputies for Jackson township are: George Schwab, Taylor Godfrey, Lon Prewitt, Simon Eacret, A. V. Lawell, Adam L. Maschino and George Schrier.

It will be several days before the complete list of deputies is placed on file.

ROBERT DALE OWEN—1801-1877. Perhaps the greatest service that Robert Dale Owen rendered to Indiana was that of securing a law which granted married women the right to own and control property. With the zeal of a Garrison he championed this cause for almost twenty years before his desire was realized. In the Constitutional Convention of 1851 he tried hard to secure its adoption, but failed. As a testimonial for his services, the women of Indiana, led by Sarah T. Bolton presented Mr. Owen with an elegant silver picture. A few years later, he won the legislature to his cause and the act was passed.

Owen was the ablest member of the Constitutional Convention of 1850. He was chairman of the committee on "rights and privileges" and on the committee on "Revisions and Arrangements." As master of the English language, he surpassed all other members, which accounted for his selection on the latter committee.

WILSON CALLS FOR SHOWDOWN

Asks Congress For Vote on Armed Ship Warning.

WISH TO PROVE U. S. UNITED

Declares Report of Division In Congress on Foreign Policy Is Doing Great Harm Abroad—Vote of Confidence Would Clear Situation.

Washington, March 1.—President Wilson startled congress by calling for a showdown on his submarine policy.

The president wrote to the acting chairman of the rules committee of the house, urging an early vote on the resolutions now pending which warn Americans from traveling on armed merchant vessels.

The president in this letter declares that the "report that there are divided counsels in congress in regard to the foreign capitals." He expresses the belief that the report is false, and adds that "so long as it is anywhere credited it cannot fail to do the greatest harm and expose the country to the most serious risks."

The president thus has thrown down every barrier against the public discussion of foreign affairs in congress and has in fact invited a frank and full exchange of views.

What the outcome will be is now, of course, a matter of mere guess as many unexpected events may intervene to influence the sentiment before the resolution is brought to a vote. At present the administration is confident of victory in both houses of congress and it seems fairly certain to unbiased observers that those who are opposing the administration will not be able to control a majority of votes in the senate, even if they succeed in pushing a resolution through the house.

Speaker Clark and Leader Kitchin predicted last week that the house would vote two to one in favor of such legislation, but they made no comment now. In fact, congress leaders, both for and against the administration, seemed stunned by the sudden and unexpected move by the president.

The president decided that an immediate challenge was the only way to end the impression which the Berlin authorities have obtained that he lacks support of the country in the conduct of his submarine negotiations.

Senator Stone, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, Representative Flood, head of the house committee on foreign affairs, and Senator Kern, majority leader in the upper house, were summoned by the president for a conference.

The question asked on all sides in Washington was whether this new move on the part of the president was immediately related to the latest developments in the submarine controversy between this government and the Berlin foreign office.

Most observers here, though, were of the belief that the president's new move was decided upon solely as a matter between himself and congress, and for the purpose of strengthening his hand in the further negotiations with Berlin.

MRS. MAY'S LETTER TO WOMEN

More Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves Suffering.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a bad case of female ills. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and I took about six bottles. It fixed me up all right. The common symptoms of such a condition—pain when walking, irritation, bearing down pains and backache, nervousness and disordered digestion—soon passed away. I look much better now than I did before, and I recommend the Compound every time for female troubles, as it did for me all it is claimed to do. You have my permission to publish this letter." Mrs. J. MAY, 3548 S. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill.

If you have any of the symptoms mentioned in Mrs. May's letter, remember what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for her, and try it yourself. It is a good old-fashioned medicine, made from roots and herbs, and it has helped countless numbers of women.

If you need special advice, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

THIEVES GET LITTLE CASH

One Firm, However, Lost $35,000 In Securities.

New York, March 1.—Although no great amount of cash fell into the hands of the thieves who stole four sacks of registered mail from a truck on the Jersey Central ferryboat Wilkesbarre, it is believed that securities of considerable value are part of the loot.

The only firm representing a specific loss thus far is Potter, Chaute and Prentiss, of 5 Nassau street, which had securities worth more than $35,000 in one of the bags that are missing.

WILSON'S LETTER ON ARMED SHIP MEASURE

Urges Early Vote on Warning Resolution.

Washington, March 1.—President Wilson's letter to Representative Edward W. Pou, acting chairman of the house rules committee, follows:

"My dear Mr. Pou: Inasmuch as I learn that Mr. Henry, the chairman of the committee on rules, is absent in Texas, I take the liberty of calling your attention, as ranking member of the committee, to a matter of grave concern to the country which can, I believe, be handled, under the rules of the house, only by that committee. "The report that there are divided counsels in congress in regard to the foreign policy of the government is being made industrious use of in foreign capitals. I believe that report to be false, but so long as it is anywhere credited it can not fail to do the greatest harm and expose the country to the most serious risks.

"I therefore feel justified in asking that your committee will permit me to urge an early vote upon the resolutions, with regard to travel on armed merchantmen, which have recently been so much talked about, in order that there may be afforded an immediate opportunity for full public discussion and action upon them and that all doubts and conjectures may be swept away and our foreign relations once more cleared of damaging misunderstandings.

"The matter is of so grave importance and lies so clearly within the field of executive initiative that I venture that your committee will not think that I am taking unwarranted liberty in making this suggestion as to the business of the house and I very earnestly commend it to their immediate consideration.

"Cordially and sincerely yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

Chicago, March 1.—A speed of 200 words a minute, said to be a high record for wireless transmission, has been accomplished by the wireless station of the Great Lakes naval training school, North Chicago, through the use of a transmitting relay there and a recently invented receiving machine at a private station here, it was announced.

Both sending and receiving machines were invented by Ray Hall, of Detroit.

Technical details of the mechanism is to be kept secret, it was said at the training school. Thirty words a minutes has been considered a fast record previously, according to officials at the station.

SEGREGATION LAW APPROVED

St. Louis Will Require Negroes to Live in Separate Blocks From Whites.

St. Louis, March 1.—Ordinances providing for the segregation of negroes in separate blocks from the whites in St. Louis, voted on here, were carried by a vote of about three to one, unofficial returns from the majority of precincts indicate. The total vote cast was nearly 75,000.

Two ordinances were voted on, one providing that a white person or negro cannot become a resident in a block occupied entirely by those of the opposite color. The other imposes the same restriction on a block of 75 per cent of one color.

The ordinance becomes effective in ten days, unless an injunction is applied for, which is almost a certainty. Opponents of the ordinance declares they will carry the matter to the supreme court of the United States, which has never passed on the matter.

ANXIETY FOR ITALIAN SHIPS

Menaced By New Teutonic Submarine Policy.

SMALL PORTION AFFECTED

French and British Liners Plying Between New York and Europe Are Not Armed—No Interruption In Sailing Dates.

New York, March 1.—Only a small proportion of the shipping plying between American and European ports—a fleet of armed Italian merchantmen—appears to be menaced by the new Teutonic submarine policy which went into effect at midnight.

British and French ships that have arrived here and at other Atlantic ports during the last year have carried no guns. Seven Italian ships with naval guns mounted on their after decks and manned by trained crews from the Italian navy have been plying between New York and Mediterranean ports since the first of the year and one, similarly armed, put in at Port Arthur, Tex.

Five other Italian liners in the New York trade are understood to have been measured for armament to be placed on their next arrival at home ports. Of the latter, the steamship San Giovanni sailed at noon for Naples and Genoa. The San Giovanni carries only freight on this trip.

The steamship Giuseppe Verdi, the first Italian liner to arrive here thus armed, is due to leave port today, this being her second round trip as an armed vessel. The number of passengers was not large, the majority being third class.

Local agents of the Italian lines here decline to discuss the new submarine orders, but all said that in so far as they knew now there would be no interruption of the sailing dates.

They also said that they had received no specific instructions from home offices of the line or from representatives of the Italian government.

French and British passenger ships from New York, now at sea and due to pass through the war zone, are as follows:

French line steamship Lafayette, Feb. 28, for Bordeaux; her sister ship Espange, Feb. 28, for the same port; British steamships Cretic, Feb. 20, via Boston for Liverpool, and Tuscan, Feb. 28, for Glasgow. No guns were seen on any of these ships when they departed nor were any reported to the collector of the port.

DIAZ ARRIVES AT CHIAPAS

Will Soon Lead Large Force Against Carranza Forces.

Mexico City, March 1.—Feliz Diaz, with his followers, organized recently on the west coast of Mexico to start a new revolt against Carranza, has crossed the Guatemalan border to aid the fighting Oaxacans.

He is in Chiapas and soon will lead a large force against the Carranzista forces, according to official information here. The government professes to be indifferent about the effect of his entrance into the situation.

Travelers from Oaxaca report intolerable food conditions there. They say that General Castro, Constitutional governor of Oaxaca, who is conducting a campaign to oust the Oaxacan governor, Jose Davila, has transferred his headquarters to Puerto Angel, concentrating the bulk of his forces along the coast to prevent hostile expeditions landing with ammunition.

BANDITS HANG AN AMERICAN

Mexicans Also Loot Ranch of Another American.

Torreón, Coahuila, Mexico, March 1.—An American hotel keeper named Harris has been hanged by bandits at Sombrete, in the state of Zacatecas, it was reported here. The date of the hanging was not learned. Harris had lived in Sombrete for forty years. He was well known among American mining men.

Bandits are reported to have looted the ranch of John Kramer, an American, at Otinopa, west of Durango City. Kramer and his American employees are said to have saved their lives by hiding.

TO CONFER WITH GREEK KING

Von Mackensen to Seek to Counteract Allied Gains.

Milan, March 1.—An Athens dispatch to the Corriere Della Sera says that Field Marshal von Mackensen will visit King Constantine in the Greek capital.

An effort will be made by the German military leader, the dispatch says, to counteract the impression made by General Sarraill, the French commander of the allied camp at Salonica, on his recent call on the king and to regain the central empires ground lost in Greek opinion since the fall of Erzerum.

FIFTEEN KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN MINE

Five Others Are Seriously Injured.

Kempton, W. Va., March 1.—Fifteen men are dead and five seriously injured and fifty-two have been brought safely from mine No. 42 of the Davis Coal and Coke company, near here, where an explosion occurred soon after the miners had gone to work. The missing men had penetrated far into the workings, and rescuers who reached the surface expressed the opinion that they had been killed.

The mine, which is a shaft 427 feet deep, was not wrecked badly, according to mine officials. The explosion, it was stated, probably was caused by dust.

Scarcely had the men reached their working places when the explosion occurred. Those not directly in range of the blast hurried to the main entries and started for the foot of the shaft in which the cages were operating. There they were met by rescue parties from the surface and hoisted quickly to daylight. Other rescuers made their way into the mine and soon discovered six bodies.

Later in the morning other miners who had been unable to reach the main lines of communication were found and brought out. Four of them were hurt badly.

The rescue parties, reinforced by men from Thomas and other nearby mining villages, will continue the exploration of the mine until the nine missing men have been found. Two rescue cars are being hurried to the scene of the accident by the bureau of mines.

URGE RE-ELECTION OF WILSON

New York Democrats Eulogistic Over Administration's Policy.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 1.—President Wilson's re-election is to be unequivocally urged in the platform to be adopted by the Democratic state conference, following a recital of a score of federal laws enacted by a Democratic president and congress, and an analysis of the president's treatment of the European and Mexican situations.

No platform adopted by a convention of Wilson supporters could be more eulogistic of the president and his policies than the one which was unanimously approved at the Democratic state conference.

CHICAGO PRIMARIES HOT

Mayor Thompson's Candidates For Aldermanic Nomination Lose.

Chicago, March 1.—In the bitterest and most hotly contested aldermanic primaries in Chicago in many years, Mayor William Hale Thompson was unsuccessful in his effort to sweep the "rebel nine," which has fought him at every turn, out of the city council. The mayor was elected eleven months ago by a plurality of 147,000 votes. He won in only two of the nine wards in which he had mobilized the full forces of the city hall to fight Republican aldermen who were running for renomination.

The Sullivan candidates were nominated over the Governor Dunne-ex-Mayor Harrison forces in twenty-seven out of the thirty-five wards. The election was marked by many bitter brawls and riot calls from the river wards especially were numerous.

Start to Seek Fortune.

South Bend, Ind., March 1.—Moore Yosse, age fourteen; Chance Smith, age fifteen, and Jesse Ault, age sixteen, after obtaining two rifles and a box of cartridges, started for South Dakota to seek their fortunes. They rode bicycles and had 10 cents for food. When fourteen miles west of South Bend the trio was overtaken by M. J. Stinchcomb, deputy sheriff, and brought back to South Bend.

financial condition of the city and the heavy expenses which were incurred last year the council is not disposed to order many new improvements of this character which would add additional financial burden on the city. However, the councilmen would not object to the paving of cross streets connecting streets already paved as the city would not experience heavy additional expense. In other words, where the intersections are already constructed and the petitions only ask for the improvement of streets connecting with those now paved the council will be likely to take favorable action.

Seymour has paved more mileage during the last four years than almost any other city of this size in Indiana. As a result of the improvements, however, bonds have been issued to pay for the intersections and the council feels that some of the indebtedness should be lifted before heavy additional expense is incurred. On the other hand, some of the council take the position that if the property owners are willing to pay for the improvement in front of their property and the majority file a petition asking for such work the city ought not interfere with it and should be ready to do its part.

Some of the property owners who are interested in the proposed improvements are known to favor brick instead of concrete. They point to Chestnut street between Second and Tipton which was paved with brick years ago and which is considered by many to have stood the heavy travel better than any other street in the city. It is said that brick can be taken up and relaid more satisfactorily than concrete and that if the work is well done the surface will not be left full of holes and ruts. It is also stated that if the surface of a brick street wears rough after years of travel a new surface of asphalt can be laid without great expense. The property owners along any street to be improved have the right to designate what kind of material shall be used.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL GIVES VIEWS ON THE DECISION

Declares that Supreme Court Upheld Section 10 of the New Indiana Direct Primary Law.

By United Press.
Indianapolis, March 1.—There has been considerable recent discussion in the state as to the effect of the opinion of the supreme court in the primary cases on the rights of a voter who proposes in the coming primary to vote a ticket different from the one he voted at the last election. A representative of the United Press today inquired of Attorney-General Stotsenburg to get his views of the effect of the decision.

Mr. Stotsenburg said that the supreme court upheld Section 10, which gave qualifications for voters, and added that following the primary a defeated candidate could contest the nomination of his successful opponent on the ground that his nomination was effected by illegal votes—that is, by the votes of electors not entitled to vote in the primary of the party to which the candidates belong.

"An entirely wrong impression has gone out as to the effect of the decision of the supreme court in the Kelso and Mote primary election cases," said Mr. Stotsenburg. "From articles appearing in the daily papers it would appear that the general impression is that the supreme court held that Section 10 of the primary law, which fixed the qualifications of voters entitled to participate in the primary, to be invalid. The court made no such holding, but on the contrary, the court upheld the whole of Section 10.

"Section 10 provides that no person should be permitted to vote in a primary of any one of the political parties coming under the law unless he possesses these qualifications:

"First: He must be an elector of the precinct, unless he is a first voter and then he must be such elector at the election for which the primary is being held.

"Second: He must be a member of the political party in whose primary he proposes to participate, the fact of which membership is to be determined by whether at the previous election he was supported and voted for a majority of the candidates of such party.

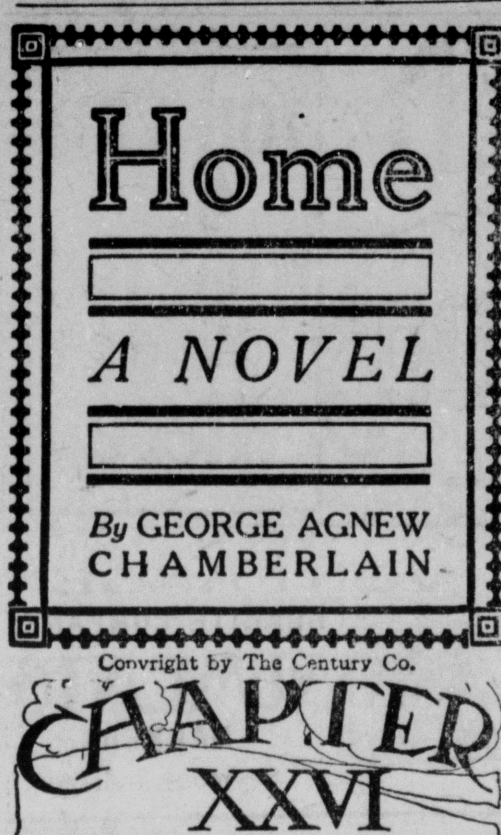

"Third: It must be his intention to support the nominees of such party at the coming election.

"What the court holds is that a democrat will not be permitted to challenge an elector offering to vote in the republican or in the progressive primary. Neither will a progressive be permitted to challenge the vote of an elector offering to vote in the republican primary; nor will a republican be permitted to challenge the vote of an elector offering to vote in the democratic or progressive primary."

The fact that a voter not entitled in a primary with which he did not affiliate at the last election is not challenged, does not make his act any less illegal, and such illegal votes if plentiful enough may be made the basis of a successful contest on the part of the unsuccessful candidate for the nomination, said the attorney general.

Notice to Dog Owners.

Dogs will not be permitted to run at large in the city after Tuesday, Feb. 29th. Owners violating this ordinance will be prosecuted.
f29d H. L. McCord, Chief of Police.

A sharp attack of fever followed Gerry's exposure and immersion. The old woman of the inn knew no medications, but she knew fever. She piled blankets on Gerry and let him sweat it out. On the third day nature, assisted by his magnificent physique, finally routed the attack.

He called the old woman. He asked her if she remembered him. She peered at him. "No, master," she said, "I do not remember you. You are like the foreigner who was drowned, but he is dead."

Gerry shook his head. "Not dead," he said, "only disappeared."

"You are not he," said the old woman. "He could not talk words that one could understand."

Gerry nodded gravely. He felt as though words could never make him smile again. "I have learned," he said, "Now tell me what became of the things I left here?" He went through the list.

The old woman checked off each item and then shrugged her shoulders. She led him to a little dark room whose only light came from the interstices of the tiled roof. As his pupils expanded he began to make out one after another of the bags that had made up his traveling kit.

"There is a letter," she said, and went off to fetch it. Gerry dragged the bags out into the light. Their locks were all sealed with the seal of the American consulate at Pernambuco. He started knocking off the brittle wax. The old woman came back with the letter and handed it to him. He tore it open. It was a note from the consul saying that by order of Gerry's wife his things had been sealed and left at the inn, telling him where to find the keys. The room, he learned from the old woman, had been paid for regularly, at first by the month, then by the year. She felt no resentment at his return, only resignation. "You are the only guest I've had since you went away," she said quaintly and with a sigh.

"Fear nothing," said Gerry kindly. "You have been faithful. You may consider the room engaged by me for the next ten years."

He carried his bags into the room overlooking the river and then lay down. He was too tired after the fever to open them. He knew that the opening of those dust-covered bags with their rusted metal fittings was going to be another ordeal.

The next day Gerry sat before his unpacked bags. He had turned out all their contents. On the bed, the floor, the table and the chairs was piled such an array of linen and shoes and suits of various cut and weight as he had once deemed the minimum with which a man could decently travel. Now they seemed to him wasteful and futile. The clothes did not carry his mind back as he had expected. The starch in the linen had gone yellow. He had always hated yellow collars. The suits struck him as belonging to someone else—all except one. One sturdy suit of tweed had a cut that was different from the others. Of all the clothes it alone seemed to have a personal note—the note he had expected to find in the bags and had shrunk from.

Then he remembered. This suit had been made by his own tailor. He had worn it during a flying visit to Red Hill. He had had it on the day he left New York. He had worn it that morning in Alix' room. Red Hill came back to him, Alix stood before him. Through the suit he saw her room, the shimmering blue of her dressing gown, her crown of hair and her thin fingers busy with it. He felt again the nip of the dear air as it had streamed in through the open window.

The worst of the flood was over. Gerry engaged a search party. All day long they sought for Margarita and her child. Towards night they found them, the little boy tight clasped in his mother's arms. Gerry laid them tenderly in the canoe and in silence the party crawled back up the river to Piranhas. No one looked curiously at the burden they carried up through the main street. Eyes were tired of the familiar sight. The hour of weeping, the allotted tears, were long since spent. They buried them that night. Gerry went back to his room. He sat for a long time looking out on the stony river. Then unconsciously he picked up the old tweed suit and hung it carefully on a chair. The rest of his scattered things he swept unceremoniously upon the floor and threw himself full length on the bed. He was exhausted and slept.

He was up early the next morning. He made the old woman bring water and bathed in his room. "It is wise," she said. "For many days there will be poison in the river." Gerry did not answer. He closed the door and went through his ablutions and toilet with great care. His beard he had always kept close clipped. Now he shaved it off. The tan of his face looked like a mask above the fresh white of his newly shaved jowls and chin. He picked out the best of his linen and dressed. Lastly, he put on the old tweed suit. It fell naturally to the lines of his body all except the waistband of the trousers. He drew the back strap as close as it would go. Still the trousers were a little loose at the waist. At first he was puzzled, then he understood. He looked at himself in the broken glass with a gorgeous but sadly tarnished frame that hung on the wall. His shoulders seemed to carry the coat better than before. He could hear Jones & Jones say. "A splendid fit, sir. You can't pick it up anywhere."

Gerry turned from the glass with a sigh. He was restless. The heavy tweeds seemed to bind his limbs and chest, but he would not take them off. He sat at the window and watched the little stern-wheeler splash up to the bank. Luckily for her, she had been three days late in starting up the river, else that trip would have been her last. Gerry tried to exert himself to the trouble of packing and getting on board, but he felt listless. Why should he hurry back? Alix had waited, was waiting, but not for him. He had not waited for her. He must go back and tell her, of course, but what then?

A cavalcade came down the street. At its head was carried a litter and on the litter lay Alan. He had refused to ride in a hammock again. Behind him rode Lieber and Kemp. Gerry drew back from the window and watched them make their way down to the little stern-wheeler. She had brought little freight, there was none for her to take away. By three o'clock she gave a long shriek of warning, and half an hour later she warped out into the river and chugged away down stream. At the last moment Gerry had sent down to Alan a note addressed to Alix.

Lieber turned from watching the boat out of sight. It was bearing Alan away with Kemp installed as nurse as far as the coast. Lieber stumped heavily up the street, leading his horse. From his window Gerry called to him. Lieber took the reins from his arm and handed them to a boy. He climbed to Gerry's room and sat down on the bed. Gerry had never seen him look so tired.

"So," said Lieber, "you escaped." Gerry nodded gravely. Lieber looked at him with dull eyes. "We passed Fazenda Flores. The house still stands. It's on a little island." Gerry nodded again. Lieber shrugged a shoulder impatiently. "Why aren't you up there?" Gerry braced himself and told him. In a dispassionate tone he told him the history of those terrible moments of destruction and death. "I am not there," he finished, "because there is nothing left. Three years—all my life here—have been wiped out. Margarita—she knew from the beginning. From the beginning she hated the ditch. I have been a curse. I have brought ruin." Gerry stared before him. His face was white and drawn.

Lieber shook his head judicially. "No, it would have been the same, except that without you there would have been nothing to sweep away. Margarita would still be alive. There would have been no boy." He paused. "Somehow," he went on, "I don't believe Margarita would have chosen to have things different. She got her four of extase and died before it was over. I—I don't think we need be sorry for her. Why didn't you go away on the boat?"

"I don't know," said Gerry. "I tried to, but I couldn't. I just buried her and the boy last night. I couldn't run away like that, as though it were all over. Of course I know it is all over, but when one falls an endless depth in sleep and suddenly wakes in a cold sweat it takes time for the mind to catch its balance. It's that way with me. I've fallen from a height. I've waked to a cold sweat. I must take time to get the balance of life and get it right. You can't hurry over these transitions, because somehow it wouldn't be decent."

Lieber nodded. "You don't feel like riding back with me?" he asked hesitatingly. Gerry shook his head. "No," he said. "I can't do that. I'm just going to sit here and wait for a while and then I'm going home. There's something I've got to straighten out. After that, I don't know. But there's something I wish you'd do for me, Lieber, and that is to look after old Dona Maria and those two old dummies at Fazenda Flores. They won't last long, any of them, and I don't want them to lack for anything. I'll square up with you." Lieber nodded listlessly. "I'll look out for them."

The next morning early Gerry saw him off. There was a wistful look in the old man's eyes as from the top of the cliff he turned and gazed down the river. "Lieber," said Gerry, "you can count on me to do what I can for you when I get home. Do you understand?" Lieber flushed. Their eyes met. He took Gerry's outstretched hand and gripped it hard. Then he rode away without a word.

Lieber threw his horse into a rapid rack that was faster than a gallop. It was a killing pace, but he knew the mettle of his mount. Late in the afternoon he came to the confines of his ranch. The broad-eaved house in the distance looked very still and deserted. Beyond it loomed the solitary joa tree. Something had happened to the joa tree during the two days he had been away. It had become a beacon. He remembered the giant Bougainvillea vine that covered the tree. The Bougainvillea had bloomed into a tower of mauve flame. It stood out in daring contrast to somber desert and brown-tiled roofs. Its single, defiant and blaring note struck an answering chord in Lieber's heart. He took courage of that brave burst of color, so jarring in a garden, but in a desert a thing of glory. Lieber passed into the loneliness of his deserted house with a firm step.

Gerry spent many days at Piranhas as he had planned in thought. He went over his life in a painstaking retrospection. His mind lingered long on the last three years, their fullness, their even upward trend. Could a man live three such years and lose them? In a ghastly half hour the flood had wiped out the tangible results of three years of labor. But what about the intangible? He had sinned against Alix and against her faith, but had he sinned against himself? He felt infinitely older than the first Gerry Lansing, but would he change this thinking age for his unthinking youth? What if he had learned three years ago that Alix had saved herself and his name? Would it have meant loss or gain to him today? Something within him cried, "Loss! Loss!" but he dared not take courage from the inward cry. He could not know, he reasoned, until he had seen Alix.

Twice, three times, the little stern-wheeler drove her nose into the mud bank at Piranhas, called her hoarse warning and departed. From some distant cliff Gerry saw her come and go, or, miles away, walking himself tired across the desert, heard her throaty siren cry and did not heed it.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

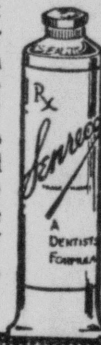

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sentanel Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

FIRE DESTROYS SCHOOL HOUSE NO. 2, NEAR UNIONTOWN

Building Erected Nearly Half Century Ago, and was Landmark of Vernon Township.

One of the old landmarks of Vernon township was destroyed Monday night when school house No. 2, one mile north of Uniontown, burned to the ground. The fire is thought to have originated from coal dropping from the stove. A light was seen in the school house by neighbors and people passing by at different times between six o'clock and eight o'clock in the evening. Nothing was thought of the light as it is customary to hold church services in the building frequently. About eight o'clock it was learned that the school house was on fire and before anyone could reach the building, the flames were bursting from all the windows.

The school house was erected about forty-seven years ago. Hiram Marling, who was an old man at that time, built the house and when the first school was called he entered as one of the pupils and attended for two or three years, although he is said to have been about seventy years old at the time. William King was the first teacher.

The building was constructed of the very best material as was evidenced by the slow progress which the fire made when it was destroyed.
